Russian Ships Turn, Showdown Avoided

Summit Feeler Eases Fear of All Out War

By DENNIS NEEDLE

LONDON (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev's summit feeler eased today European fears that the Soviet Union and the United States might go to war over Cuba. Demonstrations protesting the U.S. blockade of arms shipments to Cuba still flared around the globe. Some neutralist nations lined up in opposition to Washington's action.

America's allies in Europe rallied behind the United States. So did those in Latin America, and a number offered military aid to help enforce the blockade of Fidel Castro's Cuba. A Soviet Embassy official in London asserted arms supplied to Cuba by Moscow are not fitted with nuclear warheads. Khrushchev's suggestion that "a meeting at the highest level would be useful to discuss all questions that have arisen and to eliminate the threat of nuclear war" was contained in a message to Lord Bertrand Russell. The British philosopher who campaigns for nuclear disarmament had sent appeals to both Khrushchev and President Kennedy.

Diplomats in London concede this was an odd way to propose such a vital conference. Said one "But the Russians do things like that."

There has been little official response so far to Khrushchev's summit feeler.

The West German government representative in West Berlin, Felix Von Eckardt, said he feels world peace will be in acute danger only if the Soviets walk out of the U.N. Security Council.

Demonstrations, most of them anti-American, continued on both sides of the Iron curtain.

In London, 500 demonstrators tried to march on the U.S. Embassy fought with police. There was a rash of marches and petitions throughout Britain.

Demonstrations against the United States were reported from Communist Hungary and Poland. Pro-Castro demonstrators also marched in Milan, Italy. In Rome pro-American youths fought with leftist union demonstrators. Demonstrators for and against Castro clashed outside the U.S. Embassy in Oslo. Danes yelling against the blockade fought police in front of the U.S. Embassy in Copenhagen.

Police broke up a rally called to denounce the United States at Recife, in northeast Brazil.

Not all demonstrations were anti-American. About 200 women marched on the foreign office in Rio de Janeiro and demanded Brazil take stronger action against Cuba. More than 2,000 university students shouting support for Kennedy marched past the U.S. Consulate in Montreal.

France completed the lineup of the big Western powers backing the United States. A communiqué after a cabinet meeting expressed full support for the U.S. position on Cuba.

Teachers, Parents Talks Set

Hope Elementary Schools will be dismissed Friday October 26, 1962, for the purpose of Parent-Teacher conferences.

"We feel that these conferences will be of value to the parents, teacher, and the child. We sincerely hope that the parents will take advantage of this opportunity to discuss with the teacher their child's progress," said L. F. Stalton, Supervisor.

Each parent will be assigned a tentative time for the conference with their child's teacher. Notices will be sent to parents by their children.

Proposal by Thant to Be Turned Down

By TOM HOGE

Feeling mounted in U. N. circles today that the call by Acting Secretary-General U. Thant for a freeze in the Cuban crisis would run into a three-way showdown.

Thant told the Security Council Wednesday night he had sent appeals to President Kennedy to suspend the U.S. naval blockade and to Premier Khrushchev to hold up all arms shipments to Cuba during the cooling off period.

Delegates believed Thant's appeal would have considerable impact. But they held little hope it would be accepted by the U.S., Soviet or Cuban governments.

In Washington, the White House would not say when it would be made public.

Soviet delegates gave no hint of the likely Kremlin response.

Thant conferred with Cuban Ambassador Mario Garcia-Inchausti, but there was no indication of the latter's reaction.

The United States already has said it can not accept a neutralist appeal to halt the blockade and both the Soviet Union and Cuba have made plain they have no intention of stopping the arms buildup in Cuba.

Thant appealed to the United States, the Soviet Union and Cuba to center into negotiations immediately, even this night if possible.

Thant acted after representatives of 45 small powers asked him to try to freeze the situation and avert a military collision between the United States and the Soviet Union.

In an effort to break an almost certain deadlock over opposing U.S. and Soviet resolutions before the Security Council, two neutral members of the council proposed that Thant confer with the principal parties in the dispute in an attempt to ease the crisis.

The resolution, put in by Ghana and the United Arab Republic, was said to have encountered objections from both the United States and the Soviet Union.

Macmillan Puts Blame on Russia

By TOM OCHILTREE

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan accused Soviet Premier Khrushchev today of deliberately embarking on a dangerous adventure in Cuba and declared any settlement of the crisis must be subject to international control.

Words and promises would not be enough now, the British leader told the House of Commons. The world must be assured by an accurate check that Soviet nuclear weapons are removed from Cuba.

Macmillan stressed that the Western powers must stick together as they work toward a solution of the Cuban problem.

"There must be no break or wavering amongst the allies," he declared.

He promised his government's wholehearted support of any measures which would genuinely lead to the removal of the new threat to world security posed by Khrushchev's actions in Cuba.

"We must try to resolve this immediate danger without a form of appeasement which will lead us into greater danger," Macmillan emphasized.

Once the immediate threat is removed, world leaders should "see whether we cannot proceed with the wider negotiations which alone can give us real peace and on which we had made some progress."

Macmillan with this statement did not give an outright yes or no to Khrushchev's feeler for a summit conference. Instead he made clear that if the Cuban bomb is defused he will support various types of diplomatic efforts to ease the cold war, including a summit meeting.

Macmillan said dispatch of nuclear missiles to Cuba upset the balance of forces which existed between the Communist and non-Communist worlds.

He said Khrushchev's action "can only be regarded as a deliberate adventure designed to test the ability and determination of the United States."

Red Tanker Is Halted, Others Change Course

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Cuban-bound Russian tanker was intercepted but was allowed to proceed, the Defense Department announced today.

The department also said that at least a dozen Russian ships apparently have turned back from their original course Cuba, presumably because they were carrying offensive weapons and would run the risk of the U.S. blockade.

Arthur Sylvester, assistant secretary of defense read this announcement.

"It now appears that at least a dozen Soviet vessels have turned back, presumably because, according to the best of our information, they might have been carrying offensive materials."

"However, the first Russian ship that proceeded through the area patrolled by our naval forces was a Soviet tanker."

"It was ascertained by the U.S. naval vessel which intercepted her that the tanker had only petroleum aboard."

"Since petroleum is not presently included as prohibited material, under President Kennedy's proclamation setting up the quarantine, the tanker was allowed to proceed."

"The Navy satisfied itself that about this particular ship."

"The encounter took place shortly before 8 o'clock, day light time (today)."

Sylvester said he could not provide any further details at this time.

The Pentagon announcement came after a similar report from Rep. James Van Zandt, R-Pa., who attended a State Department regional briefing in New York for congressmen and governors of 11 northeastern states.

President Kennedy was reportedly holding the door open for a crisis conference with Soviet Premier Khrushchev if the right conditions develop.

But U.S. officials stressed that while sticking to his readiness for U.S.-Soviet negotiations, Kennedy's main concern and overriding objective is to put an end to Soviet nuclear missile bases in Cuba.

The President was said to have given most careful consideration to the proposal made Wednesday by Acting U. N. Secretary-General U. Thant.

White House announced the President was replying immediately.

A reply to a new note from Khrushchev was said in official quarters to be less urgent. The Soviet premier in a message to British philosopher Bertrand Russell declared Wednesday that he considered a summit meeting useful in order to do everything possible to remove the danger of nuclear war.

But in a letter to Kennedy about the same time, officials here said, Khrushchev made no direct bid for a conference and concentrated his remarks on denouncing Kennedy's action Monday night in ordering a quarantine of Cuba.

The quarantine policy of blocking offensive arms shipments to Cuba became effective at 10 o'clock Washington time Wednesday morning. At that hour a total of 25 Communist ships was reported steaming toward Cuba and an inevitable confrontation with the U.S. warships on blockade station unless some intervening action was taken.

That action came late Wednesday. The Defense Department announced that some Soviet bloc vessels "appeared to have altered course." Officials said that other vessels—understood to be those more distant from Cuba—were

Presbyterians to Hear Dr. Barr

A special program has been arranged for the Men's Bible Class of the Presbyterian Sunday School this coming Sunday. Arthur Wimmell will interview Dr. John T. Barr in reference to his long service to the Church. Dr. Barr served fifty-one years as a minister and for forty years of that time he was superintendent of the Caddo Valley Academy. He had many interesting experiences which he will relate as Mr. Wimmell asks him leading questions.

Menon Under Fire in India as Reds Drive

By HENRY S. BRADSHAW

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Chinese Communists have captured the important northeast Indian town of Towang, a Defense Ministry spokesman announced today.

Towang lies on the old India-Tibet trade route between the Tibetan and Bhutan borders about 60 miles north northwest of Udaiguri.

The spokesman announced that Towang fell after bitter fighting Wednesday. Chinese Communist troops are advancing in most areas, he added.

Defense Minister V. K. Krishna Menon, who came under mounting fire because of the ineffectiveness of India's resistance on the frontier. Prime Minister Nehru was reported to be defending him.

Leading newspapers joined senior members of the Congress Party in the attacks on Nehru's closest associate. Some Congress members demanded Menon's resignation.

"It looks as if someone is spreading a ceremonial red carpet for the advancing Red Chinese along the entire northeast frontier," said one party leader who with 20 others criticized Menon severely in a meeting with Nehru Tuesday.

The government meanwhile admitted steady Chinese advances all along the northeast boundary, as much as 37 miles in some areas and indicated the Communists had captured most of their objectives in the dispute area in the northwest, the Ladakh sector of Kashmir.

Congress party critics charged Menon "kept us all in the dark by painting a rosy picture of our eastern defenses."

"In place has the Indian army held ground since the massive Chinese assault began on Saturday, and every day it is the same tale of so many pockets falling to the advancing enemy," one

Revival Continues
at First Baptist

"The Highway to Hell" was the sermon topic last night of the Rev. C. N. Rue as he continued a revival campaign at First Baptist Church.

And he went on to say that the highway was crowded these days by people who have turned away from God, have shunned his love and mercy.

"If I didn't believe there was a hell, neither would I believe there was a Calvary," said the Texarkana evangelist as he once again declared the highway was crowded because the Bible says: "All have sinned and have come short of the glory of God."

The agony of sin is awful and it has driven many people to reckless lives and ultimately to suicide . . . but the alternative is to reject sin and turn back to the Almighty, said the evangelist.

Sermon topic for Thursday evening: "The Second Coming of Christ," beginning at 7:30 p. m.

Five Steel Companies Are Fined

NEW YORK (AP)—Five steel corporation executives were fined a total of $44,000 today on their pleas of no contest to charges of conspiracy to fix prices and rig bids in steel sales.

Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan refused simultaneously to accept like pleas from four steel companies and a trade association named defendants in the same indictment.

The individuals and their fines: Homer Lackey, president of Erie Forge & Steel Corp., Erie, Pa., $5,000.

Emil Lang, board chairman of Erie Forge & Steel, $10,000.

R.B. Heppenstall Sr., president of Midvale-Heppenstall Co., Philadelphia, $20,000.

Erb Gurney, manager of Bethlehem Steel Co. sales, forgings, castings and special products division, Bethlehem, Pa., $7,500.

Robert S. Barnes, assistant manager of that division, $1,500.

No Bids Required

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The attorney general's office ruled Wednesday that school boards are not required to take bids on sale of school property. The opinion went to R. E. Hemphill of Menifee, president of Eastside District No. 5, who was advised that competitive bidding usually results in a better price for the property.

Youths Arraigned

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Thomas Lee Overton, 19, and Bobby Anderson Stark, 20, both of North Little Rock, pleaded guilty at an arraignment Tuesday night and were held on bonds of $10,000 each for trial in the $954 armed robbery of the Arkansas Savings and Loan Association at North Little Rock Tuesday.

Menon Under

The Times of India said Menon was "astonishingly casual" in admitting the defense arrangements in the northeast were "found to be inadequate by later events" after his assurances that they were adequate. The newspaper called this "a confession of failure."

Critics noted that Menon sought to build his reputation as defense minister on creating an arms industry in India so as to reduce the nation's dependence on weapons purchased abroad. Lack of modern, rapid-firing weapons is given now as one of the major causes of Indian troops having to fall back before the Chinese assaults.

Peiping radio kept up enthusiastic claims of repeated victories, but said Chinese forces were only hitting back after Indian troops had attacked Communist frontier guards.

Doubts Reds Will Risk War Now

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A submarine Commander from Pine Bluff said Wednesday he doubts that Russia will risk nuclear war knowing that United States atomic submarines, such as his own, are on patrol.

Cmdr. Joe Williams is skipper of the Robert E. Lee, which is based at Holy Loch, Scotland, and New London, Conn.

Williams, home for a visit, addressed the Little Rock Navy League Wednesday night.

"The commander said the nuclear submarine fleet is part of a deterrent system which gives this country 'latitude to take defensive measures (such as the Cuban blockade) with reasonable assurance that it won't burgeon into nuclear war.'"

"I can't conceive of reasonable men starting a nuclear exchange with these ships facing them," Williams said in an interview.

The Robert E. Lee has alternate crews which take it on 60-day cruises. The sub does not surface during the cruise.

Williams said six subs besides the Lee are stationed at Holy Loch.

Star City to Vote on Bonds

STAR CITY, Ark. (AP)—Residents of Star City will vote Nov. 1 on bond issues totaling $50,000 for construction of a municipal building and the establishment of a city park.

A $40,000 bond issue would be for the municipal building and funds from a $10,000 bond issue would go to establish a park.

Total cost of the municipal building is $70,000. The federal government will provide $30,000 under the Public Works Acceleration Act. The facility would house the library, municipal court, police and fire departments and other city offices.

Ousehke Loan
WASHINGTON (AP)—A $50,000 loan to help Ousehke Baptist College at Arkadelphia, Ark., finance construction of two new dormitories was announced Wednesday by the Community Facilities Administration. One building will house 102 men and the other 84 women.

Delay Only With Certain Conditions

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy is reported ready to tell U Thant, acting secretary general of the United Nations, that he could accept the Burmese diplomat's plea for a two week freeze of the Cuban blockade only under certain conditions.

Authoritative sources said Kennedy's reply could be termed a conditional acceptance, or at least not a complete turnaround.

These sources said Kennedy's reply was in the hands of U.N. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson. But White House press secretary Pierre Salinger insisted at mid-morning that the message had not yet left the White House. There was no word there on when it might be delivered or made public.

Informants said Kennedy welcomes U Thant's motives in asking Russia to stop sending war material to Cuba and asking this country to suspend its quarantine of Cuba for two weeks.

State Department officials declined to spell out the conditions Kennedy made in his proposed message to U Thant, but they confirmed that the President stressed the necessity of getting certain guarantees before even considering the secretary general's suggestion.

Kennedy is also reported to be resting in the message the whole problem of Soviet missiles already in Cuba. The U Thant suggestion is understood to have avoided this question, dealing only with further Soviet bloc deliveries to Cuba.

The U Thant request, officials here stressed, is not being turned down. They conceded, however, that the conditions Kennedy will make in his reply are stringent.

The State Department had no information on whether Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev has already replied to the U Thant message addressed to him.

Before the Kennedy response was drafted, there was consultation with Stevenson in New York, officials said.

Most of Egypt's 380,000 square miles are uninhabited desert.

Texarkana Vote

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP)—A date for a special election on $4 million bond issue to help finance construction of a plant for the Cooper Tire and Rubber Co., probably will be set next week, L. E. Gilliland, president of the Texarkana Chamber of Commerce said Wednesday. Gilliland said the firm has signed a letter of intent with the Area Redevelopment Administration which has been asked for a $1 million loan to complete financing of the $10 million factory.

Editor Says Fulbright Misquoted

HOPE, Ark. (AP)—Publisher Alex Washburn said today Sen. J. William Fulbright was misquoted in remarks about the Monroe Doctrine which brought him criticism from three American Legion officials.

Fulbright was quoted at a news conference in Hope as saying the United States had compromised the Monroe Doctrine by building bases in the Eastern Hemisphere and could not use it in the Cuban crisis.

Washburn, who edits and publishes the Hope Star, said he asked Fulbright about the doctrine and the report of the news conference put his words in the senator's mouth.

Washburn said a tape recording of the news conference revealed Fulbright said the Monroe Doctrine was a unilateral document—action by one nation—and the United States was trying to achieve its ends today through the Organization of American States.

Walter Schrader of Hot Springs, commander of the Arkansas Legion; Bill Shaw of West Memphis, vice president for eastern Arkansas, and Hobard Copeland of Little Rock, vice president for western Arkansas, issued a statement at Springdale last Saturday censuring Fulbright for his remarks.

Washburn said he would inform the Legion officials of what Fulbright actually said.

Fulbright remarked in Washington that he had been misquoted.

Day of Prayer Is Planned

OSCEOLA, Ark. (AP)—The Mississippi County Baptist Association is sponsoring a day of prayer in the county Thursday. Churches of Osceola, Blytheville and county communities have been asked to remain open from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. to allow persons to pray for the safety of the United States and President John F. Kennedy.

Greers Ferry Bids Taken

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Tarpley Construction Co., of Richardson, Tex., submitted an apparent low bid of $77,120 Wednesday on an Army Engineers contract for construction of toilet facilities at 16 locations in public use areas around Greers Ferry Reservoir.

Trying to Buy

NEW YORK (AP)—Georgia-Pacific Corp., declined comment Wednesday on published reports that it is trying to buy the St. Croix Paper Co., of Bangor, Me. Georgia-Pacific recently bought the Crossett Co., of Crossett, Ark., for about $125 million.

Washburn said he would inform the Legion officials of what Fulbright actually said.

Fulbright remarked in Washington that he had been misquoted.

Silent Monks Extend Their Kindness

By DON MCKEE

CONYERS, Ga. (AP) — Silent monks, garb and ritual little changed in centuries, have extended brotherly kindness across their monastery walls to span one of the widest gaps in Christendom. Cistercian monks at a nearby monastery, 25 miles from Atlanta, decided to make stained glass windows for the rebuilding of two Negro Protestant churches burned last summer by arsonists in south Georgia.

The decision by the cloistered monastic community was made before the convening in Rome of the Catholic Ecumenical Council to discuss Christian unity.

"We didn't like what happened and we wanted to make some gesture—not just as Catholics—for this is our part of the country now," said Father Charles, 45, a World War II veteran who left a journalistic career to enter the monastery.

Although they don't get newspapers and only a few are permitted to speak, the monks learned of the church burnings which came as a climax to prolonged racial troubles in Albany, Ga.

"When we heard about this, a number of us felt there should be some kind of expression from us as members of the same community," Father Charles said.

"Our love of our neighbors is very deeply rooted," he said. "And, you see, we took a vow of stability—that is, we will stay here until we die. Some feel very much a part of this area."

The church windows, which haven't been started yet pending completion of architectural design for the church building, will be tediously and meticulously put together in the glass shop of the monastery.

In the glass shop Father Charles pointed to inch-thick pieces of colored glass which the monks will cut and chisel into artistic designs. The windows will go to Mount Mary and Mount Olive Baptist churches near Dawson.

Hundreds of persons from over the country visit the monastery every month. It was completed only three years ago and an open house attracted 70,000 to 100,000 visitors, mostly from the surrounding area.

He's Fallen For A Mary Magdalene!

By HELEN WORDE ERSKINE

Dear Helen I'm a glibbie widower who fell for a lady with a past — 20 years ago the Mary Magdalene of our town. Then, she had looks, a seductive smile and plenty of fellows — so they say. Now, she hasn't a soul in the world to turn to but a dumb cluck like me. I have consulted priests, nuns and the case worker of an organization in my church. So far, nothing has been done to help the poor woman. As a result, she remains problem number one in my life.

Porks Get a Mild Warning

FAYETTEVILLE, Ar. (AP) — Arkansas scout Barry Switzer compared Hardin — Simmons Wednesday to Northwest Louisiana, a team the Razorbacks beat by six touchdowns last year.

But Coach Frank Broyles warned that the Cowboys are more dangerous than most fans realize and have "come a long way" since their season's opener.

Hardin-Simmons broke a 27-game losing streak in a 14-tri-umph over Trinity University last week. The Cowboys invade War Memorial Stadium at Little Rock Saturday night.

Against Hardin-Simmons plays and attacked Cowboy defensive alignments in a 90-minute drill Wednesday.

Charged With Rape

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—David N. Cooley, 24, of Little Rock was arrested and charged with rape Wednesday. He is accused in a Tuesday night attack on a 24-year-old Little Rock woman.

— such is human nature — the very ones who criticize you would be the first to brand you a hard-hearted wretch. The real issue is your conscience versus public opinion. Listen to your conscience!

I'm old enough to be her father. She's 48, I'm 74. Our worlds are far apart. Even as a youth, I never knew her kind. My wife and I were happily married 49 short years. She lived for me, I for her. She'd been gone two years when I met this woman in a melodramatic way. Late one hot July afternoon was on my way home (I live within walking distance of my office) a violent storm broke. Thunder. Lightning. Sheets of rain. I sprinted for an awning, and, in my haste, almost knocked down a woman also seeking refuge.

Though no longer young, she was attractive and — well, I was lonely. Our chance meeting developed into friendship. It may sound naive but I didn't recognize her for what she was. One night, she told me, explaining that because of my niceness, she wanted everything to be on the level with us. That got me.

Despite the criticism of friends, I've stuck by her. I think she's almost through the woods, though still has a distance to go. I haven't the heart to kick her out of my life. But, because of her, I am being treated as a pariah. What should I do? — Stumped

Dear Stumped: You evidently value your standing in the community. Which weighs the most — your reputation or feeling for this woman? Your obligation to her, based on desire to be both charitable and kind, is moral rather than legal. But in continuing to help the once gay lady, despite the raised eyebrows of so-called friends, you have already made a decision which precludes dropping her now. And if you did

Dear Helen I have a complaint, not a problem! We are newcomers in California and find being a newcomer a very lonely occupation. This is written in the hope that other teens hereabouts will realize how lonesome a strange girl can be. We new people are all anxious to become part of our new communities and we hope established citizens are ready to extend the hand of welcome.

Lonely Girl, Palo Alto, Calif.

Dear Lonely: Hospitality is a famous American trait and if you haven't experienced it yet in the town to which you've moved, the chances are that you will, once you settle down at school or a job. Meanwhile you can speed the process along. Begin regular attendance at the church of your choice. Watch the newspapers for notice of special events to which the public is invited. Cover up your present loneliness with a pleasant smile and courteous hello to your neighbors even if you haven't been formally introduced.

Never forget that it takes two to forge a friendship, and that you must be ready to give, as well as receive its benefits.

Dear Helen My sister used to go with the fellow I now date. He is about to leave this country for nine months on an extended business trip. She wants to write him. My mother says she can't. She insists upon writing my boy friend any way, claiming she cares. She evidently doesn't realize that he is now my beau and we're very much in love. Since he didn't ask her to write, do you think it proper — under the circumstances — for her to insist upon doing so? — Happiness A. Stake

Dear Happiness: There is nothing so tragic as a tug of war between sisters over a luckless man. Tell your sister the truth — it be the truth — that he loves you, not her. Better that she gets hurt now than even more later. Speak for himself, he's not worth the battle.

Send your problem to Helen Worden Erskine care of this newspaper. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Helpful leaflets available. Write for "Are You Sure It's Love?" (Dorothy Dix is a registered trademark.) (A Bell Syndicate Feature)

WASHINGTON (AP)—Average monthly electric bills of Arkansas residents rose slightly the past year and remain above the national average.

The Federal Power Commission reports the average bill in Arkansas for 250 kilowatt hours of residential service was $7.9 last Jan. 1, compared with $7.92 a year previous.

At the same time the national average rose from $7.45 Jan. 1, 1961, to $7.48 last Jan. 1.

The range among the 50 states is from a high of $10.75 in Alaska to $4.75 in Washington state. Fifteen of the states had higher averages than Arkansas, one had the same and 33 states had lower averages.

The FPC, in its annual report, said that in presenting the typical electric bill no attempt was made to determine the reasonableness of the rates.

"Evaluation of the many factors which operate to produce differences in unit costs or differences in the level of bills," the FPC said, "would involve analysis beyond the scope of this report."

The average state bills were figured on use of 250 kwh for lighting, small appliances, refrigeration and cooking.

Arkansas' average of $7.9 compared with these averages in neighboring states: Kansas $7.0; Oklahoma $8.09; Texas $7.43; Louisiana, $7.53; Mississippi $7.0; Tennessee $5.02; Kentucky $6.75; Illinois $7.80 and Missouri $7.63.

The FPC gave typical average monthly bills for various Arkansas communities as follows:

Arkadelphia $8.43; Ashdown $7.61; Batesville $8.43; Benton $8.20; Bentonville $6.98; Blytheville $8.53; Booneville $7.61; Brinkley $8.43; Camden $8.13; Clarksville $8.74;

Conway $7.92; Crossett $7.00; De Queen $7.61; Dermott $8.43; De Witt $8.43; Dumas $8.43; El Dorado $8.13; England $8.43; Eudora $8.43; Fayetteville $7.61;

Fordyce $8.43; Forrest City $8.43; Fort Smith $7.64; Hamburg $8.43; Harrison $8.43; Helena $8.43; Hope $8.43; Hot Springs $8.13; Jacksonville $8.43;

Jonesboro $6.70; Lake Village $8.43; Little Rock $8.13; Magnolia $8.43; Malvern $8.43; Marianna $8.43; Marked Tree $8.43; McGehee $8.43; Mena $7.61; Monticello $8.43;

Morrilton $8.43; Nashville $7.61; Newport $8.43; North Little Rock $7.38; Osceola $7.83; Paragould $6.70; Paris $7.48; Piggott $7.80; Pine Bluff $8.13; Pocahontas $8.53; rescott $8.60; Rogers $7.61; Russellville $8.43; Searcy $8.43; Siloam Springs $7.80; Springdale $7.61; Stamps $8.43; Stuttgart $8.43; Texarkana $7.31; Trumann $8.43;

Van Buren $7.64; Walnut Ridge $8.43; Warren $8.43; West Helena $8.43; West Memphis $7.53; Wynne $8.43.

Restriction On Students Leaving The Yergler School Campus

(Statement Made By Principal Rutherford)

It is regretted very much that last week one of our students was fatally injured. However, we know that accidents may happen when every precaution is taken.

We are asking parents to cooperate with us in keeping our students off the streets. Students will not be permitted to get off school buses between home and school. Students will not be excused to go to town or off the campus unless the parent calls the office and makes a request. Notes should be confirmed by a phone call.

These steps are taken with the welfare of our students in mind.

Meeks-Russ Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Meeks of Prescott, Ark. announce the engagement of their daughter, Josephine, to A. W. Russ, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Russ of Camden, Ark.

Miss Meeks is a graduate of A. M. & N. College, Pine Bluff, Ark. and is currently employed as an instructor at Earle, Ark. Mr. Russ is also a graduate of A. M. & N. College and is currently employed at the University of Los Angeles, Calif.

The wedding will be an event of December 25, at the Mt. Zion Baptist Church, Prescott.

Yergler Homecoming Gives Strong Support To The Team

The Yergler Homecoming Activities were supported loyally by the community, students and faculty. We express our thanks to the local merchants, businesses, individuals, parents, and students for making our financial effort a success. The classes in the queen contest reported a total of $701.67. The sale of tickets at the schools and at the gate was $202.10. This made a total of $903.77.

Expense of the game was, food $40.00, officials $61.42 and guarantee to Jones High School, North Little Rock, $190.00. Total expenses of the game $291.42. Before this game we had paid Spaulding Athletic Equipment Company $476.45 and owed a balance of $260.00. We are now able to pay all our indebtedness.

It is our plan to use our cash balance to purchase equipment for a junior team and begin football training in the junior high school. This we hope will serve as a feeder for the senior team.

We appreciate the courtesies of the Blevins and Prescott Bands for taking a part in our parade. We are grateful to all who helped in any way to make the parade and homecoming an enjoyable affair for our students and community.

Counter Proposals Rejected

By GEORGE F. BARTSCH

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—Television Station KATV and officials of Pine Bluff and its chamber of commerce rejected counter-proposals today in what was expected to be a conciliatory meeting on the dispute over proposed removal of the station's transmitter and tower from Jefferson County.

First the city officials rejected a KATV offer to set up branch studios in Pine Bluff if the city would not object to moving the transmitter.

Then the city officials proposed that a group of Pine Bluff businessmen be allowed to buy the station and tower, and KATV rejected the offer. No price was announced.

"We are not interested in selling the station," said Frank U. Fletcher, an attorney for KATV. "This doesn't mean, however, that KATV will not entertain other offers to buy its facilities."

The only agreement reached in the meeting was that any attempt at accord would have to be made on the basis of leaving the transmitter and tower in Jefferson County.

A Federal Communications Commission hearing on KATV's request to move its tower to near Little Rock resumed in Pine Bluff today, and was expected to end late today or tomorrow. No decision probably will be announced immediately by FCC examiner Thomas Donahue.

W. S. Fox, a Pine Bluff lumber dealer, was the first witness to day for the city and chamber, which oppose the proposed move. City and chamber officials etc. th graf LR23.

Negro Farm Family of Year

Hempstead County Negro Farm Family Of The Year

Rev. and Mrs. Hendrix of Nolich community were selected recently for Hempstead County "Farm Family of the Year" after 31 years of farming experience.

The Hendrix operate a 207 acre farm, with the following crops chiefly grown: Cotton, hay, corn, cucumbers, truck crops, live-stock and timber.

Their farming experience began as a renter for three years. In 1933 they purchased 50 acres; in 1940, 40 acres were added; as the family grew in 1946 an additional 47 more acres were purchased. At present they are renting 70 acres.

Recently the Hendrix made some improvements in their home by adding a car porch, concrete front porch, breakfast nook, kitchen cabinets, running water, all work done by Rev. Hendrix and family, painted their home, bought electrical and gas appliances.

There are 12 children in the family, five of whom remain at home. At present Ina Ray and Evelyn are enrolled at Hendrix State Teachers College, Arkadelphia.

The family is very active in church and community affairs. Rev. Hendrix is pastor of Church of God in Christ, Blevins, Ark., District Sunday School Superintendent, active in Farm Management Program, children are members of Nolen 4-H Club and have done an excellent job in carrying out their projects, and hold various offices in Sunday School and Church.

The Hendrix are competing against six other counties in the Southwest District. The judging will take place Oct. 30 by Mr. L. L. Phillips, 4-H Club Agent, Mr. Leatrice White and Mrs. Jennie B. Bates, Farm and Home Management Agents, members of the University of Arkansas Extension Service, with headquarters in Little Rock, Ark.

According to C. B. Smith and Miss E. L. Ford, Assistant County Agents for Negro Work, the Hendrix credit their success in farming and homemaking to the use of various research information.

Czechs in Attack on U.S. Embassy

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Czechoslovak demonstrators tore down the flag from the U.S. Embassy in Prague today and smashed windows of the embassy building in a noisy rally of more than 1,000 students protesting the U.S. quarantine of Cuba, an embassy spokesman said.

The spokesman said the demonstrators milled in the narrow street in front of the embassy and for an hour chanted anti-American slogans such as "Yankee go home," and "Cuba is, Yankee no."

The spokesman reached by telephone from Vienna, said Czech uniformed police stood by as some demonstrators climbed on the building and tore the flag from its staff. Others hurled stones which smashed about six windows. The demonstrators pressed against the main door which had been locked.

The spokesman said no one among embassy personnel was injured.

The demonstrators began pouring into the narrow street before the embassy in Prague's old city at 2:30 p.m. and soon filled the street from end to end for more than an hour, the official said.

"They really began whooping it up," he said, reporting that uniformed police stood by without interfering with the demonstrators even as the American flag was torn down.

Radio Prague said in its regular afternoon news reports, that the students marched on the embassy after a meeting at Prague University's law faculty building.

The broadcast said the students planned to hand over a resolution protesting American action against Cuba.

The embassy official said no such resolution had been received. He said the charge d'affaires, Jack M. Fleischer, was preparing a protest to the Czech government over the removal of the flag.

The same general area. Arthur Sylvester, assistant secretary of defense for public affairs, told a news conference the Soviet ships are being watched by U. S. aircraft but he refused to say whether any Navy warships had Communist vessels in sight.

The United States took formal steps to flush any unidentified submarines that might be detected in the blockade area.

Through the State Department, it notified other governments that American forces contacting an unidentified submarine will drop four or five "harmless explosive sound signals."

Along with these signals, the Navy craft may send out an international code signal meaning "Rise to the surface."

If a submarine did not rise as ordered, it probably would be depth-charged. But if it did surface it would be boarded and searched.

The oldest incorporated trade association in the country, the United States Brewers Association, was organized in 1862... the same year that

IN ARKANSAS, General Albert Pike issued a proclamation calling for the enlistment of two infantry and two artillery regiments for service "in the Indian Country and elsewhere."

Arkansas soldiers in 1862 enjoyed refreshing beer... just as Arkansans today continue to find pleasure in the beverage of moderation.

For then, as now, beer was the traditional beverage of moderation—light, sparkling refreshment that adds a touch of Southern hospitality to any occasion. Arkansans have always enjoyed the good fellowship that goes with every glass.

TODAY, in its centennial year, the United States Brewers Association still works constantly to assure maintenance of high standards of quality and propriety wherever beer and ale are served.

Prediction on Arkansas Grid Games

By BILL C. SIMMONS
Associated Press Staff Writer

Hapless Hardin-Simmons journeys into War Memorial Stadium in Little Rock Saturday night to face Arkansas' Razorbacks.

Without a doubt, the punchless Cowpokes will get slaughtered. Barry Switzer, the University of Arkansas assistant coach, scouted Hardin-Simmons and compared them to Northwest Louisiana, a team the Razorbacks topped last year by six touchdowns.

Hardin-Simmons has one a-singame in three years and Arkansas 615 a national power. No offense meant to Frank Broyles but the view from here is that the Razorbacks will trample Hardin-Simmons.

We pick it 42-7. Arkansas State's high-flying, unbeaten Indians go to Kentucky Saturday to play Murray State, which isn't a ball of fire this season. The Indians have knocked off South Dakota State and The Citadel, and will handle Murray likewise. Make it 2-0.

Now, the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference: State Teachers 14, Southern State 8. In command of the league, the Bears will lengthen the edge with Arkansas Tech playing a non-conference game.

Arkansas Tech 2, Southeastern Oklahoma 7. The Wonder Boys got the starch taken out of them last weekend, but they should be up to this.

Ouchacha 20, Ozarks 0. The Baptist football doctrine is too strong for the eager Mountaineers.

Arkansas A&M 7, Henderson 0. Both teams need this one, but for different reasons.

Harding 14, Livingston, Ala. 0.

Rice Hasn't Much Chance Over Texas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Texas Longhorns, ranked No. 1 in the nation journey to Houston this weekend in an attempt to break the Southwest Conference jinx that for 10 years has kept them from being able to beat Rice in the Owls' stadium.

The jinx appears to be the principal if not the only obstacle to a Texas victory over Rice. The Owls were upset last Saturday by Southern Methodist, previously conceded to be the weakest football team in the SWC.

Other conference games this week pit Southern Methodist against Texas Tech at Lubbock and Texas A&M against Baylor at Waco, Texas Christian is idle. In the only intersectional game, Arkansas, which isn't used to losing will meet Hardin-Simmons, a team that isn't used to winning. The might Razorbacks, considered one of the finest teams in the loop, lost a 7-3 decision to Texas last week while the Cowboys broke a 27-game losing streak by defeating Trinity (Tex.) 14-0.

Coach Jess Neely, guarding against any further injuries to his Rice squad, limited the jowls to dummy drills Wednesday and he planned even a lighter workout today.

"Not a lick will be hit," Neely said, "unless somebody falls into somebody."

At Austin, the Longhorns spent two hours Wednesday working on both offense and defense in preparation for the Owl game. Ken Ferguson, a first string tackle who missed the Arkansas game because of an infected arm, will be ready for the Rice tilt.

The Texas Aggies drilled against Baylor pass patterns and especially against the hurling of Bear quarterback and ace hurler Don Trull, whom A&M Coach Hank Foldberg called "the best all-round quarterback we will have faced all season."

At Waco, the Bears concentrated on defense and goal line stands in preparation for the Aggie game. They also spent considerable time on their own running game.

The Texas Tech Red Raiders, already hit by injuries, suffered another blow Wednesday when a Texas victory over Rice. The Owls were upset last Saturday by Southern Methodist, previously conceded to be the weakest football team in the SWC.

The Mustangs, who suffered only a few bruises in the Rice game, were pronounced in good physical shape as they practiced their kicking game and polished their offensive plays. They also spent some time on defensive plays against the Texas Tech attack.

At Fayetteville, Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles put his Razorbacks through an hour and one half drill and warned them that Hardin-Simmons has a "tougher team than most people realize and has come a long way since its first game this season."

Laneburg Wins Three From Bodcaw

Laneburg captured all three games from Bodcaw last weekend, all by very decisive scores.

The Junior boys with McAtee losing in 13, ran up a 35 to 17 score.

The Laneburg Senior girls, led by the Mae Almond with 28 and Ann Murray with 20, racked up a 56 to 25 score. Jan Daniels made 15 and Joyce Daniels 8 for the losers.

Buddy Lee looped in 22 points to lead the Laneburg Senior Boys to a 57-35 victory over Bodcaw. Robert Baker tallied 10. Bud Daniels was high of the losers with 13 and Mark Butler made 11.

Blevins Wins Three at Laneburg

Blevins Jr. Boys defeated Laneburg Jr. Boys last night 49 to 23. The teams as a group made 60% of their shots.

Blevins Sr. Girls defeated Laneburg Sr. Girls 40 to 34.

Blevins Sr. Boys defeated Laneburg Sr. Boys 78 to 62.

Fatalities in Football Mounting

By MIKE RATHER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Football fatalities continue to mushroom toward the 25-year peak total of 36 in 1961 with the deaths of two teen-age players in accidents connected with the contact sport, bringing the unofficial number for the 1962 season to 18.

The latest additions to the list of players who have died as a direct or indirect result of football injuries came within a 24-hour period Wednesday when the deaths of Mike Mallory, 17, and James Lucian Baudin, 18, were reported.

Mallory, a senior starting guard for Gallup, N.M., high school, apparently died of a head injury after collapsing on the practice field. Baudin, a freshman at Lou-burg Sr. Boys 78 to 62. Harris with 22, Honeycutt with 17, Phillips and Steed with 14 each were high scorers for Blevins. Carman, Steed and Honeycutt each got 10 rebounds.

High scorers for Laneburg were Ammons with 25 and Buddy Lee with 22.

Our next games are at Cale October 26 and at Emmet Oct. 30.

Illiana State University at Alexandria, suffered a skull fracture in an intramural touch football game.

Mallory's death was the 15th in high schools this year. Baudin's the second in sandlot play. Three collegians also have died. Last year, there were 21 high school deaths, 8 sandlot, 6 college and 1 semi pro.

Mike Kelsey, 20, Southern Methodist center, became the first college fatality on Sept. 2 when he died after an apparent heart stroke during the first practice session of the season for Southwest Conference teams.

Earl Hundley, 22, junior tackle at Georgetown College, and Reggie Grob, 19, sophomore guard for the University of Texas, keeled over within moments of leaving a practice session. Hundley's death later was attributed to meningitis.

The rise in the number of football fatalities has brought statements of concern from educators, doctors and parents alike. The main questions asked are what's being done and what's the principal cause.

University of Texas Coach Darrell Royal sat down after Grob's death and worked out a revised training program. He changed the training schedules to include water breaks and salt tablets every 30 minutes. Previously the squad had gone straight through a two-hour session.

Most of the football fatalities have occurred in practice sessions—only four have been attributable to actual competition. And in those four cases, two were sandlot accidents, where it is assumed inferior equipment was used. The main cause seems to be head injuries.

Bobcats Will Honor Dads on Friday Night

By VINCE FOSTER

Friday night at Hammonds Stadium the Hope Bobcats will honor their fathers in their 4AA game with Camden, as they bring back the custom locally of Dads' Night. At this game with the district-leading Panthers, the fathers will be introduced and recognized.

The powerful Panthers have the same record as the Bobcats—four wins, two losses, and a tie—but their losses have come in 14 conference games. Benton beat them earlier in the season, and Pine Bluff, the top team in the state, only beat them 12-7 last week. The tie came to Malvern 6-6.

Behind the speedy backfield of Jordan, Snider, Calloway, and Jordan, Camden usually depends on speed and passing for their scoring. They have been scoring on long plays, but they can drive if needed. Also this defending championship team has a variety of plays to confuse any defense.

"With an all-out effort we can beat them," stated Coach John Pierce. However, Pierce also stated he couldn't tell if the offensive line was ready or not. The Bobcats haven't scored in three games, because Pierce says, the offensive team has quit blocking. Since end Earl Ray Murphy was injured, the wide-attack of Porterfield, Wray, and Burnett has been all but stopped. This is the one last chance for a Bobcat set and since all indications show the Bobcats will be up for this

Faubus and Defense Group Meets

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus met Wednesday with Civil Defense and military officials to discuss the role of Arkansans fighting men and the safety of civilians in case of nuclear war.

In a conference with Civil Defense Director Stu Prosser, Faubus discussed dissemination of survival information to the public.

In a meeting with Brig. Gen. Frank Bailey, commander of the state's Air National Guard, Faubus discussed what part Arkansans' civilian-soldiers might play in the Cuban crisis.

He said later that some National Guard units may get extra training to prepare them for action, but that they would not be called up immediately. He repeated that some Air Guard or personnel units may be called up. Arkansans has jet squadrons a Little Rock and Fort Smith.

Meanwhile John Koehler, director of training and education for state Civil Defense, said regional CD directors were swamped with telephone calls from Arkansans who wanted to know what to do in case of nuclear attack.

Prosser said Civil Defense officials may take to television and radio soon to answer basic questions, such as improvising fallout shelters and stocking them. These were the two questions asked most frequently.

"It is the duty of all citizens to make themselves aware of the situation," Prosser said, "and we suggest they keep an adequate supply of water and non-perishable foodstuffs in their shelters."

He said the state CD office was advising private citizens, and groups to contact regional CD officials in 93 Arkansas cities and 3 counties to find out how they can best prepare themselves for an attack.

Koehler said many people wanted to build fallout shelters but others wanted to know how they could make shelter areas in their homes. A frame house provides 50 per cent protection from fallout, he said. He advised insulating an inside hallway with a much mass as possible to cut down on radiation, and stocking food and water in the area.

Prosser stressed that such preparations were to guard against

Flood Control Measure Signed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Legislation to authorize federal construction of about 200 flood control, navigation and beach erosion projects has been signed by President Kennedy.

The new projects—nearly every state has one or more—are estimated to cost more than $2.4 billion in federal expenditure, plus local participation in the form of land easements and rights of way and in some cases cash contributions.

The omnibus authorization bill, passed by Congress on the day of its adjournment Oct. 13, provides no money. Funds for such projects are subject to separate Congressional action through appropriation bills. Kennedy signed it Tuesday.

LIMA, Peru (AP)—Peru will send armed forces to aid in the quarantine of Cuba if the Organization of American States in Washington votes unanimously for such action by its members, Foreign Minister Luis Edgardo Llosa told newsmen Tuesday night.

Cuba Incident Showing U.S. Determination

By J.M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

The fundamental background of the international situation still remains political despite the widespread military maneuvering. Soviet military activity in Cuba appears more than anything else to have been an effort to test the expressed determination of the United States to resist Communist encroachment. It was also designed to encourage local Communists throughout Latin America in their opposition to inter-American cooperation.

It was an effort to make people everywhere believe that if they could flout the United States in Cuba they could do so elsewhere in the world.

As has happened so often in the 15 years since the Soviet coup in Czechoslovakia, the Communists carried things to far. The result has been a mobilization of anti-Communist sentiment throughout the world, and especially among the Western European powers and the American states where unity of action has not kept pace with unity of purpose.

And they have produced a momentous turn in United States policy, with an open recognition that, as one Spanish source put it, "it was time for the United States to stop backing away."

The new American policy of holding the Soviet Union responsible, to the point of full and direct retaliation for any encroachment on non-Communist hearten those who wanted to resist. Many of them have been hesitant to do so openly. This is particularly true of Latin America where political leaders have been inclined to temporize with Communist sentiment.

The big test of the new policy—which is really a return to an old policy—is whether the United States will act as positively with regard to Berlin, India, and all the other points of possible explosion.

The Soviet Union now is in desperate need of a substitute crisis to distract attention from what is, unless she may be incredibly willing to go to war about it, a serious defeat in Cuba.

She is almost forced to sign the unilateral treaty with the East German puppets, which she has been threatening for four years, in order to save face.

But she can hardly permit the East German regime to step into the Fidel Castro role unless she is willing to risk another choice between political defeat and outright war.

With regard to India, Soviet Premier Khrushchev already has expressed a desire for a settlement which will let him off the hook of choosing sides.

If he chooses Red China he will be forced to delay his efforts to bring Peiping back to the side of his major "coexistence" policy. And he would open the door to a flow of American and British military support to India, which he has been busily wooing.

He cannot, for the sake of even a surface cohesion in the Communist movement, choose India. If he remains aloof in that conflict, he will lose any respect which Asians may feel for Soviet power.

Things Found in Photographs

WASHINGTON (AP)—Fagots, Fishbeds, Sam Sites, Fruit Sites, and Beagles can be found on the aerial photographs of Cuba released today by the Defense Department.

The pictures contain labels with American code names for various pieces of Soviet equipment.

The department offered this glossary of the code names:

Fagots — MIG 15 jet fighter planes.

Fishbeds — Turboprop fighter planes.

Sam Site—Surface to air missile site.

Fruit Site—Radar site.

Hairdressers Meet

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Some 3,000 hairdressers and cosmetologists are expected to attend the annual trade show and convention of the Arkansas Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association in Little Rock next Saturday through Monday. Officers will be elected Saturday.

Beagle—Twin-engine jet bomber. Some labels were blank. They contained intelligence messages that the Central Intelligence Agency wanted kept secret.

The photos were among those that convinced American officials of the existence of Soviet offensive weapons on Cuba.

France in Full Support of U.S.

PARIS (AP)—France today expressed full support for the United States' position in Cuba.

In a communique after a Cabinet meeting the government expressed its understanding of the American position in the face of "recent and growing installations of Soviet offensive armament in Cuba."

The Cabinet statement said the reciprocal pledges of the North Atlantic Treaty are and remain the peace of French policy.

Burr Will Talk

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Former U.S. Supreme Court Justice Charles E. Whitaker and Raymond Burr, television's Perry Mason, will address a "law-lawmen conference" in Little Rock Nov. 9. The conference will be held in conjunction with the regional meeting of the American Bar Association Nov. 8-10.

Soviet Youths Shout at U.S. Embassy

By GEORGE SYVERTSEN
MOSCOW (AP) — First-shaking youths shouting "hands off Cuba" demonstrated in front of the U.S. Embassy today and anti-American rallies swept the Soviet Union.

The sporadic outbursts ranging over four hours around the embassy appeared spontaneous.

But Soviet propagandists were clearly launching a major effort to whip up indignation throughout the country over the U. S. arms quarantine against the far-away Caribbean ally of the Soviet Union.

Before the milling started outside, the U. S. Embassy delivered a copy of President Kennedy's proclamation of the Cuban quarantine to the Soviet Foreign Ministry only a couple of blocks away.

The Soviets officially refused acceptance of it and later sent back the copy.

Carrying crudely made placards, about 100 youths mostly of high school age suddenly marched on the embassy.

Some of the signs threatened "If you touch Cuba, we'll knock your teeth out."

Squads of police moved in an gently dispersed the crowd but the demonstrators came back and the mob swelled to about 500.

Some broke through a cordon of about 50 policemen at one point and surged up to the gates of the embassy. A couple of youths threw bottles of purple ink at the yellow face of the building but no windows were broken. Police drove them back.

One youth who flung an ink bottle at U.S. Ambassador Foy D. Kohler's car as it left embassy grounds was quickly arrested by Soviet police. Kohler, riding in the car to his Spassko House residence, was not hurt. The bottle did not break and caused no damage.

Embassy officials, fearful of a repetition of the violent attack on the embassy in 1961 following the abortive Bay of Pigs invasion of Cuba, readied for an emergency.

The lower floors of the nine-story building were cleared and a dozen U.S. Marine guards locked the gates and doors and set up command posts.

Proposed Tax Cut Depends Cuba Result

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — The promised tax cut could be hobbling up and down today on the waters off Cuba.

The promise already was full of uncertainties—how big a cut, for what beneficiaries, with what results to the economy and to the Treasury's unbalanced books, what kind of reception in Congress?

Now, what happens off the Cuban shores in the next few days or weeks—or in the Berlin corridors—or in many other spots around the globe—all or any could add to the host of problems already faced by those trying to shape a tax program.

In a shooting war, taxes rise. In the Korean War emergency taxes were imposed. Many are still on the books, having been renewed year by year.

If the Cuban trouble becomes a localized and minor military effort, the Treasury could handle it without asking for new revenues.

In between are many variations and stages of military activity and spending. Some might inspire demands again for taxes aimed at holding down consumer buying that interfered with defense production.

But if the hopes of most Americans are realized and Soviet Premier Khrushchev decides to drop or drastically modify his Cuban venture, the evidence of the new menace to U.S. security would still be remembered. This is likely to stimulate the defense industry.

On Tuesday night, for instance, Chet Huntley's regular half-hour news analysis show had almost twice the audience it had picked up the previous week, according to an American Research Bureau estimate of metropolitan New York.

On Monday night, "Ben Casey" had a sharp fall-off of viewers while CBS, with a news special, picked up sharply. Not all viewers were happy about the network's policy of dumping entertainment in favor of news. The CBS switchboard lit up with complaints because it preempted "Stump the Stars," hard as that is to believe.

Hope' First Show Has a Little Luck

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Bob Hope, whose best jokes are usually topical, was playing in luck when he filmed his first show of the season, Wednesday night's bright, funny NBC special.

Most of the hour was filmed almost two months ago. But except for one line in a sketch with Lucille Ball, in which he addressed two gangsters body guards as "Nikita" and "Fidel," there was little to jar even the most sensitive soul.

Hope's monologue for the most part remained safely inside television — "Telstar" ("is the world really ready for Slinky Sales?"), NBC's peacock, plus a few good-humored Kennedy cracks. His sketch with Lucille Ball was a wild spoof of television lawyer shows; his sketch with Bing Crosby and Juliet Prowse was a wild spoof of "Bonanza."

Miss Prowse also did a perky turkey trot. And Bing, of course, sang. Altogether, it was happy, relaxing hour.

Television rating services are reflecting the public concern over tries. Hundreds of companies are involved in making military hardware, either the finished product or some of its many and intricate parts.

Such a stimulus to a large section of U.S. industry, and to its suppliers, could boost the economy enough to increase Treasury collections from existing taxes, and thus strengthen the demand for cutting the rates as the administration has promised.

At the same time this could weaken the argument that tax cuts are needed to get the economy moving.

While all the guessing as to what will come of the arms quarantine of Cuba mounts, the Treasury says its team of tax experts is going right ahead trying to draft a program of tax cutting and tax reforms.

It's a tough task. Everyone would like a tax cut—for himself, for his business. That's about the last time you can use the word everyone.

Some want the taxes cut in the upper brackets to stimulate investment in risk ventures. Some want it cut in the lower brackets to give more persons more spending money.

Latins Seem Electrified by Action

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
MEXICO CITY (AP) — The United States appears to have electrified Latin America and to have leaped overnight to a position of real leadership in the Western Hemisphere with its bold showdown challenge to the Soviet Union.

Latin American sources attending the hemisphere finance ministers conference here say that the initial shock has worn off and that Latin leaders are taking a new and appreciative look at Washington.

If the United States wins its gamble to halt the Soviet weapons buildup in Cuba, these sources say, it will be in a far better position than ever before to push ahead with the Alliance for Progress program to lead the hemisphere toward political, social and economic stability.

The extreme left is not expected to take all this lying down. The Communists and their Castroist allies in Latin America can be relied upon to do all in their power to threaten governments and leaders with noisy demonstrations and various forms of violence.

But something new has been infused into the Latin-American greatest world crisis since the end of World War II.

The overwhelming vote of the Organization of American States in support of President Kennedy's decisions is a token of the change.

Latin Americans point out that President Kennedy's action will not necessarily make people of the hemisphere love the United States. But they say that if the Kennedy decision is made to stick, it will create respect for the United States of a sort which was not there before.

In private, Latin Americans of the educated class concede that their countries look for strong leadership. It is, they say, part of the heritage of the "caudillo," the strong chief who commands respect rather than affection.

In private they will concede, too, that they may say one thing while meaning another. In the past two years at hemisphere conferences, Latin-American leaders have stubbornly opposed strong action against Cuba, offering the explanation that pressures upon them left them no other choice. There is a hint in all this that if the strong leadership had been present the United States would have insisted stubbornly upon having its way and eventually would have won it.

President Kennedy's action against the Cuban buildup was taken without prior public blessings from the governments of Latin America. Yet even governments which had followed the soft approach to Castro readily fell in

Bill Is Signed
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy has signed a bill to ease taxes for persons with unusually heavy medical expense and to encourage private pension plans to add medical benefits.

The bill signed Tuesday retains the present basic limitation which permits tax deductions for medical expenses of only those expenses in excess of 3 per cent of income.

It raises some over-all ceilings now in effect. For single persons, it sets a deduction limit of $10,000 instead of $5,000. For married couples, the deduction ceiling is raised to $20,000, and the deduction for dependents is increased to $5,000.

Disabled persons over 65 are allowed deductions of $20,000 instead of $15,000 for single persons, and $40,000 instead of $30,000 for married couples.

The new law permits combined

Will-Reveal Any Happenings
NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — With warships of the Atlantic Fleet deployed to meet the first critical test of the arms quarantine in the sealanes around Cuba, a fleet spokesman commented today: "When something happens down there, you can be sure the Navy will let the world know about it."

The ships are in position to do the job the President told them to do, he said.

Activity at all naval commands in the area continued with a stepped up air of immediacy that began with President Kennedy's address Monday night. Identification cards or passes were checked at the gates of all installations. All leaves are canceled for the present.

administration of private pension and medical plans for retired employees. The old law required that medical plans be administered separately.

How They Made A Million

"Never buy a stock because it's cheap. Wait 'til it's cheaper!" With this philosophy, Mrs. Hefly Green made her millions. The "Witch of Wall Street" died in 1916, leaving $100,000,000 in a cabinet in the $20-a-month Hoboken flat where she lived... to avoid New York's personal property tax!

George Parker, of Salem, invented a card game called "Rook," which became so popular it sold in the millions. He formed Parker Brothers, which became the foremost game company in the world and made him a millionaire.

When Harry B. Burt awoke one wintry morning, he found that a glass of juice he'd left on the window ledge had frozen with a spoon in it. He plucked the frozen drink from the glass and ate it like a lollipop. It wasn't long before Harry had patented the "popsicle" and made his fortune.

Charles Darrow made a million dollars by giving others the chance to become make-believe millionaires! In the mid-30's he invented the game, "Monopoly," which became one of the most successful games in history, retaining its top popularity even today.

'Cameo' Has Been Useful to Filmland

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"What did we do before Mike Todd invented the term 'cameo'?" said a film producer recently. "It's the magic word that can get a star to do a bit part."

The dictionary defines cameo as "a gem carved in relief." That was the word that helped Todd, the great producer, talk a platoon of top names into accepting tiny roles in his epic "Around the World in 80 Days."

Producers today can thank the late showman for starting a trend that continues. In the old days, a star wouldn't think of accepting a role in which he had less than 80 per cent of the footage.

Now you see stars taking roles their agents would have scoffed at years ago. Frank Sinatra, Burt Lancaster, Kirk Douglas, Tony Curtis, Shirley MacLaine and Robert Mitchum will be seen heavily disguised in tiny roles in "The List of Adam Messinger."

The all-star comedy "It's a Mad Mad Mad Mad World" will feature in brief parts such names as Jack Benny, the Three Stooges, Buster Keaton, Don Knotts, Carl Reiner and Paul Ford.

"The Longest Day" has an entire cast of cameo players. Stars like Anthony Quinn and Alec Guinness find themselves playing support to the geyser in the title role of "Lawrence of Arabia."

Peter Toole, Tony Curtis plays a bit in "Paris When It Sizzles" as a Tony Curtis-like movie star.

If you want to be technical, you could divide the non-starring roles of stars into three categories:

1. Walk-ons. These are brief scenes of perhaps no more than two or three lines, in which the star appears for shock-comedy value. The Hope-Crosby "Road" pictures were full of these.

2. Cameos. The cameo player usually has a well-defined though brief role extending through an important sequence.

3. Supporting roles. These extend for a long sequence or even throughout the movie, but remain secondary to the starring roles.

Comma Is in Dilemma in This Case

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A comma that should have been a period has created a dilemma for the state Health Department and Associate Justice Jim Johnson of the Arkansas Supreme Court.

Johnson and some others have built cabins on a 400-foot wide peninsula which juts out into Beaver Fork Dam Reservoir — Conway's water supply.

The improper punctuation is in a paragraph of Health Department regulations intended to prohibit construction of such buildings within 300 feet of shoreline at spillway level on any water supply reservoir.

Because of the comma, the attorney general's office told Pres.

Thinks Profit Sharing Lot of Noise

By RICHARD DAW

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Juan Ibarra, 59-a-week factory worker, shrugs his wide ombre back on his head and said wryly:

"All this talk about the government making companies share profits with us workers is just a lot of noise. It'll never happen."

Similar skepticism is common among those supposed to benefit from a constitutional amendment forcing all companies — Mexican and foreign — to turn over part of their profits to employees.

The plan has been in the works almost a year and no one can say when it will go into effect or exactly how it will work.

President Adolfo Lopez Mateos' government seems to be walking a shaky tightrope. Ideals and political expediency lie on one side, economic reality on the other.

Any measure to put compulsory profit-sharing into effect in to drastic a manner threatens to scare away much-needed foreign and domestic investment capital.

But letting the idea remain only a dream raises the possibility of increased unrest among the mass of low-salaried workers, prime targets for leftist agitation.

Much of Mexico's future may rest on the solution that the reform-minded Lopez Mateos comes up with.

The idea of compulsory profit-sharing was written into the constitution in 1917, but through the years it remained merely an idea.

Last December Lopez Mateos

Atty. George F. Hartje the regulation permits construction of cabins if sewage facilities prevent lake pollution.

Dr. E. J. Easley, assistant state health officer, said the department was rewriting the paragraph and inserting the period. He said the rewritten version is to be submitted to the Board of Health at its regular meeting Thursday.

If the board approves the rewritten version, it still will not have the power to remove the cabins, Easley said. The other cabins are owned by Dr. Harley Weatherly, a Conway dentist, and by a group of Titan II missile site workers.

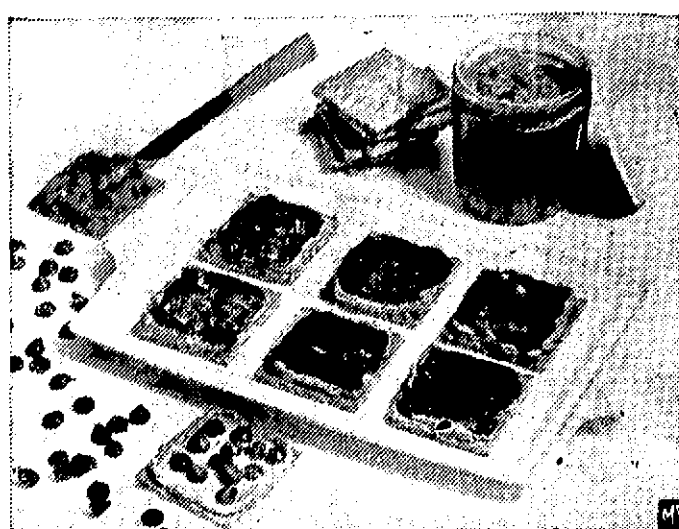

Easley said Weatherly's cabin was completed and construction had begun on the others before they were discovered during a periodic check by Sanitarian Homer Jones.

Should the cabins remain, Easley said, the Health Department might have to declare the water supply unsafe because of the danger of pollution. Apparently the only recourse for the Conway City Council and the city Water Department is to buy all three cabins and the lots on which they are built, he said.

Easley said water departments around the state have been advised to buy strips of land 300 feet wide around their reservoirs to prevent construction of buildings within 300 feet of shoreline at spillway level on any water supply reservoir.

He said at some points on Beaver Fork, the Water Department owns strips only about 20 feet wide.

There's News In This "Chip" Recipe

You and the younger members of your family will find this recipe simple as 1-2-3—graham crackers, peanut butter and glazed chocolate chips. These new glazed chips add something extra to any chip recipe... they are richer, fresher and more decorative. Just try the "Quick Chips" below and the following variations and see for yourself:

Instead of peanut butter, place about 12 chips on each cracker and heat as directed. Spread chocolate over cracker and sprinkle with flaked coconut. Still another delicious idea is to use finely chopped nuts instead of the coconut. All the versions are really yummy!

Quick "Chips"
6 graham crackers
3 tablespoons crunchy peanut butter
2 tablespoons Baker's Semi-Sweet Chocolate Chips

Spread each cracker with about 1/2 tablespoon crunchy peanut butter. Top with the chips, using about 12 chips on each cracker. Heat in slow oven (325°F.) 2 or 3 minutes, or until chips are softened. Spread chips quickly over crackers. Cool.

Makes 6 cookies.
Note: Do not make more than 6 cookies at one time.

THE STORY: Columbine suspects that her chef, Lester Budchinsky, is something of a rascal. At least, she says, his French is phony. He comes from Brooklyn, she says.

X

"A year ago," Columbine said, "we engaged a new chef for Miss Cardwain's Select School for costs were inflated by almost exactly 10 per cent. As an experiment, I sent checks for about 10 per cent less than the face of their statements to certain butchers, bakers and grocers. There was no protest. Whereupon I—er—scrapped the chef."

"So what do you propose to do here?"

"To send checks for 10 per cent less than the face of the statements. And see what results."

Barbara Green wrinkled her surprised businessmen and workers alike by sending to his obedient congress a constitutional amendment aimed at putting teeth into the idea.

Congress whipped the measure to passage without a dissenting number of state legislatures subsequently approved it. Then, several weeks ago, Congress ratified the legislature's action and sent the amendment back to the president.

It becomes law when Lopez Mateos decides to have it published in the official gazette.

The measure's pace has been slowed, however, by protests from worried businessmen and other expressions of concern at home and abroad.

What seems to worry businessmen most about the government's profit-sharing plan is the government control.

Pressure to put the measure into action is strong, however. Failure to carry through at least in some degree could hurt the government's popularity among workers.

More than 70 per-cent of America's rainfall is used by growing plants or returned to the atmosphere by evaporation and breathing.

Dr. William J. Layton of the University of Minnesota recently discovered the smallest known white dwarf star. It is about 25,000 times fainter than the sun.

nose and made a rather attractive grimace.

"Did not my father own a motor car?"

"Are you able to drive it?"

"I've a license to prove it."

"If you had in your possession, through inadvertence, an article of some bulk of which you desired to rid yourself surreptitiously, how would you proceed?"

"Why," Barbara said, "I would smuggle it into the baggage compartment of my car and drive it to the trash dump in the desert and make a bonfire of it."

"An excellent expedient," Columbine said. "Will you be so good as to drive the car to the service entrance? I will join you there with the embarrassing article of which I wish to rid myself."

"Right," Barbara agreed, meaning to ask further questions about so interesting a mystery.

Columbine entered the lounge on her way to her apartment. As she crossed the room she became aware that a man stood at the desk making inquiries of George Simpkins. He turned his head as she crossed the room, and she saw that it was Prof. Artemus Thumb, who was utilizing his sabbatical year by making a study of the mystic and magic rites of the Indians of Arizona. He looked at her and turned back to the desk. He had not recognized her.

Columbine went into her office. Through the door she could hear the murmur of voices at the desk and she waited until there was silence. Then she lifted her telephone and asked Simpkins to come in. He stood in the door and stared at her. Clearly the metamorphosis had been too much for him.

"George," she said, "you were just talking with a man."

"Yes, yes, Miss Drugget."

"What was his name?"

"He didn't mention."

"What did he want?"

"He was a very talkative man," Simpkins said. "He wanted accommodations. When I told him we were full up, he just stood and stood and asked question."

"What questions?"

"Well, Miss Drugget, like how many guests we had, and were there any single women and when did they arrive."

"I hope you made it clear to him that you gave no information about guests or employees."

"I did so, Miss Drugget. I was quite sharp with him, especially when he showed one a piece of airplane baggage and wanted to know if any guests had a bag like it. I told him my business was not with the guests' luggage."

"You seem," Columbine said in her scholastic voice, "to be proud of your discourtesy."

The young man did not seem to realize that he had been rebuked. "There was," he said tremulously, "something uncanny about the fellow. He gave me cold chills. While he was talking to me, he was drawing on the back of a registration card." His hand was unsteady as he handed the card to Columbine. It was a not unskilled drawing of an elephant standing on its hind legs, with and human hands and saturnine expression. "He flicked this picture to me, and I never saw such mean eyes, and he said, 'My courtly friend, how would you like to wake up some night with the demon behemoth squatting on your belly?' I was glad to see the last of him."

"Thank you, Mr. Simpkins," Columbine said. She went up to her apartment, removed the troublesome suitcase from its concealment and emptied it on her bed. She put its strange contents in a drawer of her highboy, wrapped the case itself in a sheet to conceal its color and striping, and went downstairs with it in her arms. She made her way out of the service entrance, where Barbara Green awaited her in her father's car, with the cover raised. Columbine thrust in her burden, slammed down the cover and climbed into the car beside Barbara.

Barbara, without turning her head, said dryly, "It must be a small boy."

Farina Dumplings—A Home-Y Touch!

Farina Dumplings turn a satisfying clam-celery soup into a delightful main-dish supper soup!

Light, tender, almost white, a bit raggedy in shape and of a delicate herb flavor—these are words to describe Farina Dumplings! Serve pilot crackers, sweet butter, cabbage slaw; a simple Apple Betty for dessert. All breakfast cereals offer the pleasure of adventure to the creative cook—there are so many ways they can be used to bring excitement to family meals. And breakfast cereals—remember—make nutritional contributions of protein, important B vitamins (thiamine, niacin, riboflavin) and essential minerals.

Farina Dumplings in Clam-Celery Soup
1 can (10 1/2 ounce) cream of celery soup
1 cup water
1 bottle (8 ounce) clam juice
1 can (7 1/2 ounce) minced clams, undrained
1/2 teaspoon ground thyme
3/4 cup butter or margarine
1 cup milk
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup farina, plain or malt flavored
3 tablespoons flour
2 eggs, beaten
1 tablespoon chopped parsley

Combine soup, water, clam juice, undrained clams, thyme and 2 tablespoons butter or margarine; heat. To make dumplings: Combine milk, salt and remaining 2 tablespoons butter or margarine in saucepan; bring mixture to a boil. Combine farina and flour; mix well. Add slowly to hot milk, stirring constantly during addition. Beat hot cereal slowly into eggs. Return to heat to cook eggs, about 2 minutes, stirring constantly. Cool slightly. Dip tablespoon into hot soup mixture, then spoon rounded tablespoons of farina mixture in hot soup. Cover; simmer until dumplings are done, 5 to 7 minutes. Sprinkle with chopped parsley. Yield: 4 servings (6 cups soup with dumplings).

Reds Caught U.S. Experts by Surprise

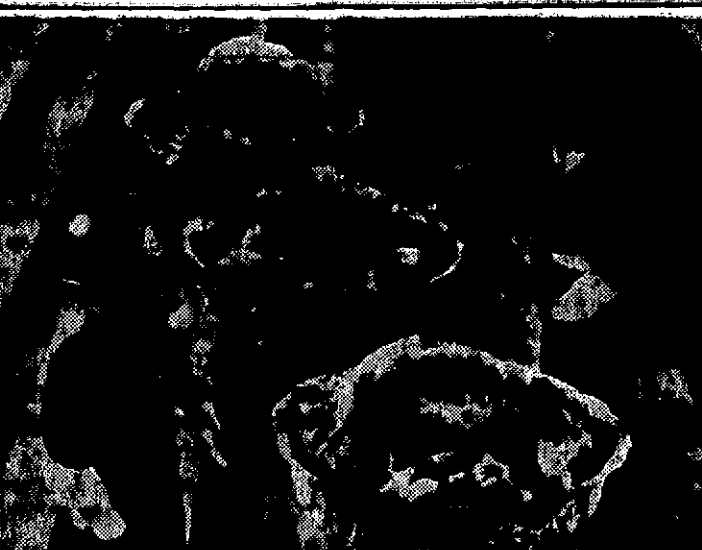

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Soviet Union's installation of nuclear missiles in Cuba, caught U.S. experts by surprise and demolished, almost overnight, their carefully constructed estimate of Soviet strategy in the Western Hemisphere.

Until evidence of the introduction of atomic striking power became available to President Kennedy eight days ago, the belief of officials here had been that the Soviet Union intended to use Cuba only as a base for a political and guerrilla offensive against Latin America.

That strategy did not require nuclear weapons in the Caribbean island. It required only the Prime Minister Fidel Castro be armed defensively against any new limited invasion attempt or an internal uprising.

The disclosures which President Kennedy made to the nation Monday night wrecked the theory that the Soviets were supplying arms to Castro only for his own protection. They showed that Cuba was being converted into a Soviet military base with a destructive potential unequalled by any known base on the Communist side of the world conflict except installations in the Soviet Union itself.

TASTY examples of British cleverness at using up left-over meat and fish are these Rockingham chicken pies.

In the light of this bold and unexpected thrust into U.S. security territory thousands of miles from the Soviet Union, the Kennedy administration presumably is reassessing Soviet strategy not only toward the Western Hemisphere but also on a global scale.

There are several puzzling aspects to the Soviet action. One is that policy-makers in the Kremlin must have known that they would be discovered almost at once. When the heavy buildup of arms in Cuba began last July the State Department repeatedly disclosed precise figures on missile bases, ships and fighter planes which were detected in the island.

The Soviet government, furthermore, had given public and private assurances that the buildup was only for Cuban defensive purposes. It had boasted publicly that the Soviet Union did not need to base missiles outside its own territory to reach any target in the world, including the United States.

Some of the best informed officials say privately it is difficult to make sense out of the Soviet behavior on the assumption that Premier Khrushchev still wants to achieve his goals in the world short of nuclear war.

Safe Button on Gun No Guarantee

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The safe button on your gun is no guarantee of safety.

This warning comes from Gus Albright, Game and Fish Commission news editor, who feels that hunters are sometimes lulled into careless gun handling habits because their weapons are on "safe."

"Conceivably, if guns didn't have safe buttons, there would be fewer accidents," Albright said. "I believe that hunters are inclined to take unnecessary chances just because they have the false impression their guns can't go off when they are on 'safe.'"

Albright said a jolt can cause a "safe" gun to discharge. Hunters sometimes forget to put a gun on "safe" after shooting, or preparing to shoot. And it is very easy to knock the button off "safe" by brushing against a limb or tree.

"It's for sure that people would handle their guns with much greater care if there was no safe button," he said.

Most sportsmen are well educated on proper gun handling, Albright said, "but I don't think there's enough said about the dangerous psychology of the safety."

Actually, Arkansians have a good record in hunting safely, he said. "We haven't been able to obtain complete statistics on hunting accidents, but I know that we have fewer than most states," he said.

One possible reason is that most Arkansas hunters have considerable experience in handling guns. Because the state has had a predominantly rural population, most youngsters receive training in the use of firearms.

"Most of our hunters do a lot of hunting," Albright said. "They hunt squirrels, doves, quail and deer in season. They are less excitable and, as a rule, know pretty well what they are doing."

This is in contrast with many other states, particularly in the East, where hunters venture into the field only once or twice a season.

With the first deer season approaching, Albright lashed at trigger-happy hunters who shoot at sounds or movement without being certain of the target.

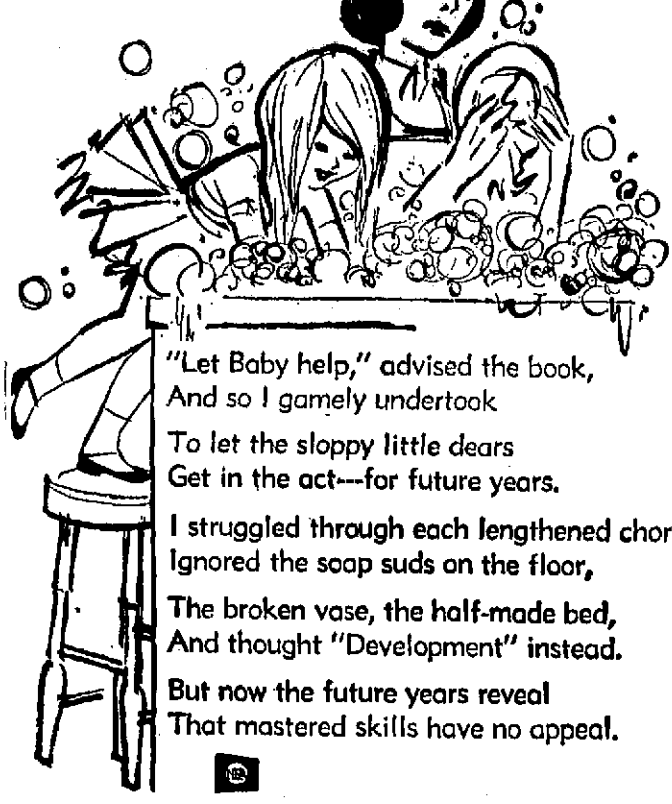

He also cautioned color blind sportsmen to be doubly cautious. "Bright colors worn by hunters as a safety measure mean nothing to a color blind person," he said.

"These people must exert extreme self discipline."

Those who mix drinking with hunting also came under fire. "People who sack on a bottle while hunting should be treated just as severely under the law as drunk drivers," he said.

Market in Heavy Trade Late in Day

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market remained higher in heavy trading late this afternoon although some gains made in the technical rebound were clipped or erased.

Volume for the day was estimated at 7 million shares compared with 6.11 million Tuesday. With the crisis over the Cuban arms quarantine still hanging fire, key stocks held gains of fractions to a point or more.

Brokers called it a rally "from temporarily oversold condition," and said there was nothing in the way of solid news nor even strong rumor to account for the vigorous snapback.

Steels, motors, aerospace issues, chemicals, coppers, and rails held their gains pretty well. The ticker tape ran as much as

Food Harvest Season for Housewives

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Housewives will find plentiful supplies this week of nearly any food they desire. If they search hard enough they may find as many bargains as there are foods. This is the harvest season.

There are a number of foods that stand out this week either because of their availability or their slightly lower prices. By a happy coincidence pork and apples are among these.

The two foods, which traditionally accompanied each other, are listed by the U.S. Department of Agriculture in its weekly report of good buys.

Another seasonal and palatable combination is also in growing demand and availability as Thanksgiving approaches. Cranberries are listed by the department as plentiful. Turkeys are priced as low as they have been in recent weeks.

Among other good buys over the nation:

Canned Maine sardines, fish sticks, grapefruits, pears, cauliflower, potatoes, squash, mushroom, cheese festival in full swing, the dairy counters are offering a wide selection of these good protein sources.

Also listed as among the best buys in some areas are anise, artichokes, endive-escarole, butternut squash, avocados, Boston and Romaine lettuce, chuck roast, round roast and lamb.

Another Deal by Big Lumber Firm

NEW YORK (AP) — Georgia-Pacific Corp. declined comment Wednesday on published reports it is negotiating to purchase the St. Croix Paper Co.

Georgia-Pacific, one of the nation's largest forest products companies, is based on the west coast and has extensive timber holdings in that region, the Southeast and the South.

St. Croix, based in Bangor, Me., owns over 600,000 acres in Maine and New Brunswick. It produced about 150,000 tons of newsprint last year.

A Georgia-Pacific spokesman in New York said he could neither confirm nor deny the report. He conceded the two companies have had discussions in the past.

A few months ago, Georgia-Pacific, in a transaction valued at about $125 million, acquired the Crosslet Co. of Crosslet, Ark., with extensive properties in southern Arkansas and northern Louisiana.

Sales for the nine months ended Sept. 30 jumped to $22.3 million from $19 million in the like 1961 period, and earnings to $14,040,787 from $11,384,893.

Can't See Reds Starting a War

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The commander of a Polaris missile-equipped submarine said Wednesday he doesn't believe Russia will start a nuclear war knowing ships like his are on patrol.

Cmdr. Joe Williams of the Robert E. Lee nuclear sub was in Arkansas, his home state, visiting relatives. His home is at Pine Bluff and he was to speak to the Little Rock Navy League Wednesday night.

The sub's alternate crew now has it out on patrol. "I can't conceive of reasonable men starting a nuclear exchange with those ships facing them," Williams said in an interview.

The Robert E. Lee has one base at Holy Loch, Scotland, and its home port at New London, Conn.

It is part of a deterrent system that Williams says gave this country "the latitude to take such defensive measures (as the Cuba blockade) with reasonable assurance that it won't burgeon into nuclear war."

He is a native of Magnolia, Ark.

Civil Defense Meet Called

JAMESTOWN, N.Y. (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller today called an emergency meeting of the Civil Defense Committee of the Governors' Conference for Saturday morning in the Pentagon in Washington.

The committee, of which Rockefeller is chairman, will discuss with federal officials what steps individuals should take to help the national government deal with the Cuban crisis.

A Rockefeller spokesman said there were no plans for a meeting between Rockefeller and President Kennedy.

The governor said that the Civil Defense Committee of the Governors' Conference would be briefed on the Cuban situation by Defense Department intelligence personnel.

Since before the War between the States, Arkansas has ranked near the top of the world's cotton producing areas, both in total production and per acre yield.

Landowner and Farmer Dies

NEWPORT, Ark. (AP)—Walter F. Hurley, whose farming enterprises covered a four-county area, died Wednesday at his home in Newport after suffering an apparent heart attack. He was 65.

A native of Jackson County, Hurley was president of the Hurley Farms Inc. He owned some 21,000 acres of land and was engaged in various other businesses.

Survivors include a widow and three daughters.

Many Call About Safe Shelters

CONWAY, Ark. (AP) — John Koehler, director of training and education for Arkansas Civil Defense, said today regional CD directors are being swamped with telephone calls from Arkansans who want to know what to do in case of nuclear attack.

Koehler said they were asking for information about home shelters, supplies, and the possible effects of radiation from a nuclear blast near them.

Civil Defense has prepared considerable literature on the subject and CD directors in cities have plenty of it, Koehler said. The best booklet is entitled "What To Know and Do about Nuclear Attack."

It tells ways to improvise home shelters, Koehler said.

A frame home will give 50 per cent protection from fallout, and any kind of mass will reinforce it. The simplest instructions are to get in an inside hall, away from doors and windows. "Stacking a mass like books along the walls would help," Koehler said. He said Arkansas Civil Defense is under no greater alert than normal.

Some people are inquiring about building fallout shelters, Koehler said.

Many fallout shelter firms sprang up during the Berlin crisis, but many of them since have gone out of business. Contractors can build shelters at various costs.

U.S. Increases Its Readiness

PARIS (AP)—Headquarters of the U.S. European Command said today it has "increased its readiness" in view of the Cuban crisis. "We are in a higher state of alert," said a spokesman, "and we are prepared for any other state of alert."

Arkansas farmers sold more than a half million dollars worth of apples last year.

Sharp Rise in Use Tax Take

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Internal Revenue Service in Arkansas has reported a sharp rise in collection of federal highway use taxes from owners of heavy trucks and buses.

Fred W. Johnson, district IRS director, said Arkansas collected $707,022 in fiscal 1962 compared with $455,109 in fiscal 1961. A national rise from $64.8 mil-

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Funeral services for Barbara Ann Workman, 8, who was struck and killed by an automobile Friday, will be held today. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph C. Workman Jr., of Houston. The Workmans formerly lived near Clinton, Ark.

Her father's insurance policy paid $73.7 million was recorded. The rise was attributed to new tax rates that became effective last year and additional compliance resulting from IRS emphasis in the field.
